

I'm raising money for beat SCAD

Spontaneous Coronary Artery Dissection

Spontaneous Coronary Artery Dissection (SCAD) is a rare heart condition that can't be predicted or prevented. It affects people with few or none of the normal risk factors for heart disease. Beat SCAD was established by SCAD survivors whose mission is to raise awareness of SCAD, provide support for SCAD patients, family and friends and raise funds for research. All money raised will help us further our aims, so thank you for your sponsorship.
